Breakout Sessions – Synopses

Friday 4th September

1. Meeting the Needs of Transgender People in Sexual Health: Jenna Thomas and Michelle Ross
   Is there a ‘correct’ way of meeting the needs of transgender individuals who present in sexual health clinics? Discuss patient experiences from a transgender perspective and how to best meet sexual health needs in this group.

2. Challenging Cases in Contraception: Dr Praveen Jayadeva
   Expand your contraception skills with this interactive session using clinical cases to discuss challenging scenarios.

3. The DipGUM - How to Pass: Dr Anne Oliver
   Thinking of sitting the DipGUM exam? Then this session is a must! Join Dr Oliver to explore techniques to prepare for the exam and become familiar with the format. Discover if there are any gaps in your clinical practice which need to be plugged to ensure you have the best chance of passing.

4. Challenging Cases in HIV Medicine: Prof Rob Miller
   By ever increasing popular demand, Professor Miller is back, using several “real life” case scenarios to illustrate the complexities of managing HIV-infected patients with intercurrent and co-morbid conditions.

5. Child Sexual Exploitation: Joanna Sharpen
   Take this opportunity to review the current situation with regard to CSE nationally and discuss how best to manage suspected CSE cases in a sexual health setting.

   A common request for a smaller group topic – join Angela to explore the principles of sex therapy practices and the relevance to doctors working in sexual health.

7. Managing Erectile Dysfunction: Dr Mervyn Lee
   Have you ever been faced with a man presenting with erection difficulties in a sexual health clinic? Not completely sure what to ask next or what advice to provide? This session aims to review the aetiology, assessment and management options for those men with this problem.
Saturday 5\textsuperscript{th} September

1. Challenging Cases in GU Medicine: Dr Hayley Wood
   This session provides the opportunity for interactive case based discussions of GU Medicine case scenarios. Always popular!

2. Basic HIV: Dr Graham McKinnon
   As requested by past delegates, this session aims to remove any mystery and confusion surrounding the principles of HIV medicine in terms of diagnosis, assessment, monitoring and treatment. Suitable for doctors new to HIV medicine.

3. Mentoring for SAS Doctors: Dr Helen Mullan
   Heard of mentoring? Interesting in becoming a mentor or being mentored yourself? Join Dr Mullan in this interactive session to discuss the roles of mentors and mentees relevant to SAS doctors.

4. The ABC of Hepatitis: Dr Ben Stone
   Do you know your surface antigens from your core antibodies? Allow Dr Stone to remove the mystery while you discuss the basic principles of diagnosing hepatitis A, B and C and gain an overview of management options.

5. STIs and Pregnancy: Dr Jyoti Dhar
   Another popular topic! Attend this workshop to gain a better understanding of which STIs may result in adverse outcomes in pregnancy and how they should be managed.

6. Job Planning and Appraisal for SAS Doctors: Dr Amit Kochhar
   Dr Kochhar will guide you effortlessly through the process of putting together a successful job plan and how to best prepare for appraisal and revalidation.

7. Genital Dermatology: Dr Liz Ogden
   This workshop offers an interactive session to review the common (and not so common) genital skin conditions. Develop a practical approach to assessment and management of such conditions relevant to your current clinical practice.

CALL FOR PRESENTATIONS

There is an exciting opportunity for delegates to make a 10-minute presentation. A prize of £100 will be awarded to the presentation judged to be the best. Submissions should be personal and original in the area of clinical work, case presentations or clinical audit in the field of Sexual Health. Please submit a summary (200 words maximum) using the attached Abstract Forms A and B as templates and return by 14\textsuperscript{th} August. These forms are also available in Word format in the SAS Doctors’ section of the BASHH website. We regret that any submission received after the deadline cannot be accepted. Up to four abstracts will be chosen as an oral presentation based on merit. Successful entrants will be notified by 24\textsuperscript{th} August.
